Learning Tip

While roller coaster reading works on students' blending skills (combining individual sounds to make a whole word), students are also practicing segmenting. When segmenting, students hear a whole word orally and have to separate each sound as they write or simply tap out the sounds on their fingers. The best way to practice the written component of this at home is to draw 3 boxes on a piece of paper or board, say a CVC (consonant, vowel, consonant) word out loud, such as pig, box, cat, man, etc., and have your child write the word with 1 letter in each box. For example, if you said the word ham, the completed boxes would look like this:

h	a	m
---	---	---

New Vocabulary

Reading and Writing: blending, segmenting, rhyming

Math: comparing numbers, more, less, equal, missing addend

Our Learning

We learned that rhyming words are words that have the same ending sound and often have the same word family like -at, -op, -ig. In reading, we will start working on retelling the events of a story and sequencing them so that they follow the correct order.

In our science unit, students learned more about the different types of weather (sunny, cloudy, rainy, stormy, snowy, windy). We made a class weather graph as students voted on their favorite type of weather. The fan favorite was snowy!

Classroom Needs

- Flair pens, any color
- Class Dojo store prizes - pencils and erasers, small toys, wristbands, individual bubbles, keychains, any leftovers from birthday party goodie bags, etc.

*Ms. Kingdom will be out the week of December 9th, for Monday through Friday of that week. If you are available and interested in volunteering in the classroom for any time of the day during that week, please let me know! Thank you so much! :)
